Innovative, Original, and just plain fun

By Bryt Dowler

After using this program, I wouldn't want to learn a language any other way. It's scientifically telepathic in the way it makes you forget that you're learning a language, but instead hearing a wonderful story and listening to terrific music. Dunham and Dillingham are geniuses at teaching while entertaining and will surely have more planned after this.

Being homeschooled and having experimented in teaching methods I've come to adopt this style of teaching to be the only logical one. If you're emotionally invested and care about what you're learning, then everything else will naturally follow. You will almost feel like you've discovered a record of a French radio program from long ago, only you'll understand what's going on and listen to a modern story. With this program it really will be a Beautiful Day.

Better than Pimsleur

By S. Brudzinski

Finally, a language learning system that is fun and captivating. It does sound like your listening to a Broadway musical. The music is beautiful and the story keeps you wanting more. I've been trying to learn Japanese with Pimsleur's CD set, but I'm finding it very boring with its monotone repetition. I try to use my time in the car for learning a language, but I find myself drifting with the Pimsleur program. I've never tried

Rosetta Stone, but it's a little pricey for me and it's not mobile. This CD set comes in a small carrying case which is great for keeping in the car or for travel. I recommend this program highly! I can't wait till they come out with Chinese.
